From these above observations and observations in other seals, it seems that there are seals of five countries: tiger, elephant, rhino, markhor, buffallo, the official logos for the tablets that may indicate the country of destination. In trade related seals, the text by themselves may or may not indicate the destination of the goods. The object in front of the animal seems to indicate if the cargo is perishable (food) or goods of other types (indicated by an object stack which seem to be previously mistaken for incense stand and other such religious symbols). There seems to be transport mediator of high authority indicated by such symbols like ✠, ⑈, ⌘, etc. Of course, these symbols have pluripotency like other symbols, so one has to be careful in discerning the context-specificity especially as it occurs to the left of clitic $\bar{\text{u}}$.
